The St. Louis Valley Railway will be opened to-day between St. Louis and Chester, Ill., and passenger service inaugurated by a day of excursions. The schedule for to-day is as follows:

First train will depart from Chester at 6 a. m. and arrive at St. Louis Union Sta-tion at 9 a. m., departing on the first re-turn at 9:20, arriving at Chester at 12:20 p. m.; the second train will depart from Chester at 3 p. m. and arrive at St. Louis at 6 p. m., departing from St. Louis at 6:38 p. m., and arriving at Chester at 9:20 p. m. Chester is sixty-five miles southeast of St. Louis on the Mississippi River. The St. Louis Valley is a new road, backed by the St. Louis-Union Trust Company, and Wil-liam E. Guy, its general manager, is said to hold control. The general opinion is that the road will go to the Goulds, who are rethe road will go to the Goulds, who are reported to have secured an option on it. The terminus of the road when completed will be at Thebes, at which point the liminois Central, the Chleago and Eastern Hilmois, the Missouri Pacific and the St. Louis Southwestern are building a bridge.

The road will use the Terminal's new East Side Belt, the Louisville and Nashville tracks at East St. Louis and the Union Station at St. Louis. It has recently acquired the use of the old Louisville and Nashville freight house in East St. Louis and has transformed it into a new freight station. FURTHER SENSATIONAL ADVANCES.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Aug. 16.—There were further sensational advances in Toledo, St. Louis and Western, both common and preferred, to-day. In official quarters, among the banking elements, which control the property, much mystery is thrown over the movement of the stock, and the general tenor of the replies is that they do not know what caused the recent upward movement. Railroad.

In unofficial quarters, however, direct statements are made that a "deal" is on, and that several conterences have been held during the week just closed, while others will be held the coming week. These authorities point out that it is an independent property in the Central West, and it is only logical to believe that it will sooner or later become identified with a larger property.

The only reports circulated in St. Louis yesterday were that either the Frisco or the Grand Trunk would secure the Clover Leaf. The most acceptable report was one to the effect that the Frisco would make a trackage deal with the Clover Leaf for use of that line to Mode, Ill., where the Frisco could connect from St. Louis with the Chicago and Eastern Illinois for Chicago.

One report connected the Chicago and Alton with the "deal" in an arrangement by which the Aiton and the Clover Leaf would be connected by the line of a recent merger of roads in Onlo and indiana, or a cut-off to be built, which would thus in a manner give Harriman a connection East with a Vanderbilt property. This report was based on a statement that, as the Vanderbilts must fnevitably tose the North-western, the Union Pacing, now throwing part of its trame to that road, would, in case of Vanderbilt lose, as stated, give its whole traffic to the Alton, which is a reputed Harriman road. The connection with the Ohlo-indiana merger was far-fetched and worth little or nothing in this reported combination.

The reports finally became only the wildcombination.

The reports finally became only the wildest speculation, combinations being made of the Pennsylvania, the Rock Island, the Big Four, the Grand Trunk, the Wabash,

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 16.—President Smith and the other local directors of the Louisville and Nashville have not returned from New York, and no one else in authority claims to know anything of the rumored removal of the general offices to St. Louis. In fact, such action would completely upset the plans of President Smith and would come only from Morgan and the other new owners of the property, as Mr. Smith took with him to New York this week plans pot only for new $2,500,000 shops in South Louisville, but for a modern general office building opposite the Union Passenger Station on Broadway, between Ninth and Tenth streets, the present general offices building being outgrown.

The rumor is also negatived by the fact that the Louisville and Nashville is a Kentucky corporation, with a valuable charter, and must, under the law, retain its head-REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

and must, under the law, retain its head-quarters in Louisville.

Raliroad men say a change could come only by a merger into another company. They think it more probable, judging from Mr. Smith's plans, that, if anything, the office force here will be increased, as the Monon may be managed from this end of the line, and the Southern, its joint owner, may create a larger local force. The whole matter is speculation, and none of the officials or employes of the L. & N. under President Smith knows where they are, and would be surprised at nothing.

John Fitzgerald, superintendent of term John Fitzgerald, superintendent of terminals for the Louisville and Nashville at St. Louis, departed for Memphis last night to visit his mother over to-day. Mr. Fitzgerald says that he knows nothing of any contemplated change in Louisville and Nashville headquarters, and that the present offices in Broadway are held by a lease which will run for several years. It is known that the Louisville and Nashville was approached to lease the building at Nos. 720 and 72 Olive street, recently vacated by the Germania Trust Company, but no deal was made, and it is officially stated that none is being considered. that none is being considered.

What the interests in the merger of the Mobile and Ohlo, the Southern Rallway and the Louisville and Nashville, being the same, will do, is a matter that will be settled in Wall street.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Houston, Tex., Aug. 16.—For several days past there has been a rate war on among the Texas roads, starting with a cut from New Orleans to St. Louis and Chicago. This morning the Houston East and West Texas announced a cut of $3 under the cuts heretofore by the other Texas roads. The response was immediate, and a number of tickets were sold at the reduced rate to St. Louis, especially where many Texas merchants are now going to buy goods. This afternoon the scalpers of Houston started on the cut rate and the slashing was the merriest ever known. A dollar at a time went off the rates to St. Louis, Chicago and Knums City, until finally one broker posted up "10 cents to Kansas City." A competitor a few doors up then hung out "30 cents to St. Louis, with six

Alton Bridge Rumor Is Connected With Independent Plans.

Assurances by Rock Island and Terminel officials in St. Louis that the failure to formally admit the Rock Island into the Terminal Association at the New York meeting of the presidents of the companies represented in the Terminal Association were not well received by other officials in St. Louis yesterday.

Attention was called to the fact that the trust companies representing the Rock Island and the Terminal interests, respectively, have both failed to announce any change since they each claimed control of the Wiggins stock.

Some persons believe that President Loeds has not played his final card, and that the Rock Island still believes it can control the Wiggins property. If it could do that, it would reject the Terminal proposition.

Two more meetings are reported, one for St. Louis, which will be a Terminal Association meeting, and another in New York this or next week, which may be either a Terminal meeting or a meeting of Terminal Interests. Before departing for New York the Terminal officials stated that nothing would be made public after the New York meetings until the return to St. Louis.

Institution.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 16.-Before departing for the West last night John W. Gates made known some of the details of a school which he is establishing in Illinois for boys near the farm where he was born.

"The institution," said the millionaire plunger, "will not only be the greatest of its kind in this country, but it will be the greatest in all the world. We have already cought 1,000 acres of land thirty-five west of Chicago and the work on the buildings will be pushed to completion as quickly as possible

The school will be unlike any in existence. We shall accept boys between the ages of 10 and 14 and they can study anything they desire. We will employ the best instructors that can be found, and if a boy asks to be taught in something none of the professors have heard of we will investigate and if there is such a thing we will have it.

"We will have a packing-house to teach the youth that great field; we will have a railroad connecting with two trunk lines running to Chicago. If some boy looks at a locomotive and says he wants to be an engineer, he will be kept until 21 and no expense will be spared with him.

"The boys will be taught military tactics They will be dressed in uniforms, but, unlike any other school, there will be no truants. The place will not be inclosed, and whenever a boy feels he wants to go away, there will be no one to restrain him. If at any time he cares to come back, he can do so.

"Our packing-house will have boys for officials, and the officers and directors of the railroad will also be from the school. In this manner, we hope to be able to teach business methods. Pupils also will be instructed in the arts, sciences and commercialism in all its branches.

Wherever the opportunity affords we will send the boys away, for travel is a neces-sary essential to an education. Every week we will take a number of the older boys to Chicago to study conditions in the city. "The farm purchased is thirty-five miles west of Chicago and two miles east of St. Charles Mr. Gates says Samuel W. Allerton of Chicago and Henry H. Weaver are interested with him in the enterprise.

The party whip was cracked last night at a meeting of the Twenty-third Ward Republican League Club at Compton Hall, and the meeting that had been called oster sibly to condemn the action of the City Central Committee and commend the action of the committee in ordering a direct primary, which Clarke voted against.

The vote on the resolution was a tie, but Richard Lawler, third vice president of the club, acting as chairman, cast the deciding ballot. An amendment denouncing the committee was lost.

The action of the club was a surprise to many of the members, who considently expected Clarke would be upheld in his course. The resolution was introduced by James E. Whelan and supported by P. J. Regan, Deputy Election Clerk, and Harry G. Whelan, assistant clerk in the First District Police Court.

Mr. Regan in support of the measure tried to show that the Central Concentration was not controlled by the Kerens faction.

"Why," replied J. R. McKelvery, member of the Congressional Committee. "I know that Kerens controls every member of the committee who voted for the direct primaries, and also most of the members of the Congressional Committee."

After the resolution was passed many of the members claimed that it was prearranged that Lawler should be placed in the chair and that strong outside influences had been brought to secure control of the meeting.

Guidi of the office of Cardinal Rempolia, the Papal Secretary, to be Apostolic Delegate at Manila has been abandoned because he does not know sufficient English and that he will be sent as Apostolic Delegate to India instead.

As to Mgr. Conaty, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, whose possible appointment as Apostolic Delegate at Manila has been rumored, the Vatican denies that his name has ever been considered in connection with the Manila post, where, it is pointed out, the conditions demand a thorough man of business, speaking fluently English and Spauish, of unquestioned Imparitality, and withat persona grata at Washington.

It seems probable now that Mgr. Merri Del Val, who was to have represented the Pope at King Edward's postponed coronation, will be appointed Papal Nuncio at Vienna, while Mgr. Falconio, the Apostole Delegate in Canada, may ultimately be transferred from Canada to Washington.

JEWELS WERE HIGHLY PRIZED. Sunburst Lost by Mrs. Matthews

Was Husband's Wedding Gift. Mrs. L. S. Matthews of 3894 Delmar bou-levard, who lost or was robbed of diamonds and jewelry valued at $1,200 in New York, is en route to St. Louis with her husband, and may arrive here to-night. Such are the advices received by her mother, Mrs. O'Brien, who is keeping house during their absence.

O'Brien, who is keeping house during their absence.

It was only a brief message which came to Mrs. O'Brien apprising her of the loss of her daughter's jeweis, and it contained far less information than the messages printed in yesterday's Republic, which told how one Missouri woman had advertised the loss of jewelry and how another advertised the fact that she found jewelry.

Mrs. Matthews wrote: "I was unfortunate enough to lose my sunburst, a waten and four rings, and I am deing all I can to find them."

"I know the loss must be keenly feit," said Mrs. O'Brien, "because the sunburst was the prezent given by Mrs. Matthews's husband at her wedding a year ago, I am in a quandary whether to wire the Chief of Police or not as I do not know whether my daughter saw the advertisement of the Hannibal woman telling of her find. I am satisfied that they are the same jewels Mrs. Matthews lost, I will certainly send The Republic clippings to the Chief of Police in New York. My daughter wrote that she would leave there Friday night or Saturday, so, I suppose they are on the way west."

Mrs. Matthews and her husband spent a month at Atlantic City.

DIED ON ANMIVERSARY OF HER CONSECRATION

Sister M. Celestine Kelly Entered Visitation Convent Just Fifteen Years Ago.

> Sister M. Celestine Kelly, after suffering patiently for seven years with tubercuoris, died at the Visitation Convent in Cabanne on Friday, just fifteen years after she became a Sister of the Visitation. She was in her thirty-fifth year and nearly onehalf of her life had been spent in the cloister.

Sister Celestine was the daughter of the late P. W. Kelly. Her mother, two sisters and a brother, realizing that her life was soon to be sacrificed, have been with her at Terent times at the convent of late. She had spent nearly eight years teaching in the English branches, but ever since the malady fastened itself on her abe led a life free from activity. In the past few weeks she had seemed to regain strength. She attended mass Friday, but a few hours afterwards was overcome, She told those about her that she felt she told those about her that she felt that the end was near. The fact that it was the fifteenth anniversary of her entrance into the order seemed to impress her with the belief that she had been spared to celebrate that event, but could live no longer.

The nuns saw that life was fast ebbing away and sent for Father Hoenschen, who
